Writing:

Dear Timothy,

Thanks a lot for your letter. Sorry I haven't answered earlier but I was really busy with my school.

I'm waiting for you to come to Moscow, there are great concerts. I will answer your questions with pleasure.

I like quiet music lately, and so, I'm a music lover, I can listen to foreign singers, and I can and Russian. Yes, there are music lessons in my school, but I don't like them because it's not interesting for me to study to the subject. I would like to learn to play the piano, because he has a calm melody.

I've got to go now! It's time for my favorite TV show. Write soon!

Yours, Liza 105 Bcw: 468

Today, we live in ^{the} 21st century. In the era of science, technologies, and maximum freedom and prosperity for everyone. But how we can use any experience of this century, and what ^{we} must know to improve our lives?

First of all, ^{the} 21st century - the most democratic era of our civilization. To live in a full power, we must defend all our rights, which ^{are} given to us by the governments. Future generation must remember ^{it} that. Also, with going on globalization, our market and trade rights and opportunities are increase up. Globalization give us a way to travel ^{to} every country, which you ~~want~~ want. ~~future generation will increase~~

But, not all sounds good. Global warming warning - still higher for years, and in 21st century it takes critical place. I think, future generations must live in ^{the most clearest} a ~~it~~ more clearly planet, but it ~~will be~~ Earth, which must be cleared by our generation in this ^{era} ~~to~~ years. Also, global warming warning really can be neutralized, and scientist searching ways how to stop ~~it~~ it.

As a final, future generations will, and must ~~smokes~~ make our environment and planet more healthy, and live longer, than previous generation.
